

Press Release

Ingrid Häfner / OneWoman Entertainment

Singer, DJane and entertainer Ingrid Häfner is a professional musical entertainer. She has a vivid liking for music as well as for football and she managed connecting both of them for more than three decades now. Being a highclass entertainer she knows how to surprise and likewise convince the audience with her live acts, in a football stadium she rocks the specators and cheers the players with her music not only during half time break.

Ingrid Häfner startet her career as a singer by the alias name Cosi and earned a lot of credits on stage since. Participating for the Grand Prix de la Chanson on a TV show, singing with her band Sydney in full houses or being the presenter of an exquisite gala: She is an iconic DJane, always receiving the moods of her audience and really understanding in an excellent manner to elate the audience by a huge variation of musical styles.

All her songs are produced completely by her own, Ingrid Häfner manages selected artists besides her own business OneWoman Entertainment and she is best connected within the entire music business. The powerful lady supports charity events like Brustkrebs Deutschland e.V. and others, she does not even mind to easily organise and run a charity football match herself and make VIPs kick the ball.

International bookings, a close scedule and entirely extremely satisfied customers are the best proof.